1. Introduction

The European Commission (hereafter ‘the Commission’) is committed to protect your personal data and to respect your privacy. The Commission collects and further processes personal data pursuant to Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 23 October 2018 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data by the Union institutions, bodies, offices and agencies and on the free movement of such data (repealing Regulation (EC) No 45/2001).

This privacy statement explains the reason for the processing of your personal data, the way we collect, handle and ensure protection of all personal data provided, how that information is used and what rights you have in relation to your personal data. It also specifies the contact details of the responsible Data Controller with whom you may exercise your rights, the Data Protection Officer and the European Data Protection Supervisor.

The information in relation to the processing operation “websites and e-services at the JRC” is undertaken by the Data Governance and Services Unit T.4 of the Joint Research Centre (JRC.T.4), which acts as the data controller.

The JRC.S.4 is managing the processing itself and acts as the Data Operational Controller.

The SciArt project also process your personal data according to record DPR-EC-08688 on “JRC Centre for Advanced Studies” in relation to the its initiatives, such as the Resonances Cycle with its Summer School, residences and ensuing exhibition, and all the other smaller initiatives such as the Feeling Science project, the Arctic Workshop, etc., that take place in the context of this project.

In particular, this website/e-service concerns the <http://science-art-society.ec.europa.eu/>.

2. Why and how do we process your personal data?

Most of JRC websites are accessible without giving any personal information. Personal data however are required in the following cases which this record aims to cover.

A. Personal data published on the <http://science-art-society.ec.europa.eu/> website

Personal data in relation to a specific activity or event or to communicate on achievements or contributions to the <http://science-art-society.ec.europa.eu/> activities and scientific publications (mostly publications pertaining to the ongoing work such as catalogues, studies and related material in social sciences).

B. To provide specific e-services on the <http://science-art-society.ec.europa.eu/> website

An e-service on the <http://science-art-society.ec.europa.eu/> website is a service or resource made available on the Internet in order to improve the communication between citizens and businesses on the one hand and the JRC on the other hand.

Three types of e-services are, or may be offered by the <http://science-art-society.ec.europa.eu/> :

- Information services enabling a given research community (e.g. committee, working group, project group, etc.) spread worldwide to maintain a private space on the Internet where they can share information and documents, participate in discussion fora, download software, subscribe to JRC publications etc.
- Information services that provide people, media, businesses, administrations and others with secure access to information.
- Interactive communication services (communications to users, distribution of reports, information sharing within interest groups etc.) that allow better contact with people, businesses, civil society and public bodies, in order to facilitate policy design, development, consultations and feedback.

Your personal data will not be used for an automated decision-making including profiling.

3. On what legal ground(s) do we process your personal data?

We process your personal data, because, according to Article 5(1) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725:

- a) The processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the Union institution or body.
- d) You have given your consent to the processing of your personal data for one or more specific purposes. Registration of data subjects to access the e-services is purely on a voluntary basis. The persons concerned have unambiguously given their consent.

The Union law for the processing of your personal data under Article 5(1)(a) of said Regulation is the following:

- Regulation (EU) 2021/695 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 28 April 2021 establishing Horizon Europe – the Framework Programme for Research and Innovation, laying down its rules for participation and dissemination, and repealing Regulations (EU) No 1290/2013 and (EU) No 1291/2013
- Council Decision (EU) 2021/764 of 10 May 2021 establishing the Specific Programme implementing Horizon Europe – the Framework Programme for Research and Innovation, and repealing Decision 2013/743/EU
- Commission Implementing Decision of 15.2.2023 on the adoption of the work programme of the Joint Research Centre for 2023 and 2024 – Portfolio 33. Innovative policymaking in a complex world: science, foresight and evaluation for policymaking and democracy (Project 4).

Data subjects give their consent to having their personal data made publicly available in the SciArt project website for the purpose of communicating on a specific activity, event, achievement and/or contribution to the JRC SciArt activities in which they were involved. The consent is collected through a consent form and/or via email exchanges.

We do not process special categories of personal data, therefore Article 10 of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 does not apply.

4. Which personal data do we collect and further process?

The type of personal information we collect depends on how you are specifically interacting with us and which services you are using. Generally, we collect the following categories of personal information:
